Macao Beach Resort, Inc.
Developer Company for Roco Ki

Nick Tawil has 25 years experience in Finance and Business Management in the International Export/Import, Manufacturing and Leisure Industries fields, primarily focused on the Caribbean, European and U.S. markets.

Prior to joining Roco Ki as President and CEO, Tawil was founder, Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer of Seair Export, Import Services, Inc., a South Florida company specializing in freight logistic and procurement, and was designed to support export/import business in the Caribbean and U.S. markets. Previously, he enjoyed a 25-year-career with the Gulf and Western Americas Corporation, later Central Romana Corporation, owner of Casa de Campo Resort in the Dominican Republic, ending his service there as Vice President-Finance.

Nick Tawil has dedicated expertise in business process improvement, quality control and working with diverse cultures. In conjunction with investment brokerage houses, he has consulted and advised on the strategic management of investment portfolios, resulting in significant return on investment. He has analyzed and evaluated economic trends to determine direction of interest rates, to formulate and recommend investment strategies. Tawil has designed and implemented corporate organizational structures to accommodate expansions through joint ventures and acquisitions.

“We are confident that in the high-end market, Roco Ki will earn its place as a new luxury tourist destination in the Caribbean that will not only be a big success but will pave the way for the development of other similar tourist destinations in the Dominican Republic,” says Tawil.
